FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Business owner establishes studio in Hudson, delivers web design and development expertise

Hudson, OH (May 18, 2010) -- Christine Galvin, president and founder of Christine Galvin Design, Inc., opened the doors of her new Hudson office on April 1, 2010. The full service website studio has been in business since 1998. The new office symbolizes the growth and expansion the company has experienced over the last 12 years.

"As a woman business owner in a male-dominated field it's refreshing to be able to keep up with the competition and provide services and support to our growing clientele," said Ms. Galvin. "I'm excited to get to know the Hudson community, and eager to discover new business opportunities."

Christine Galvin Design, Inc. specializes in website design and website development. The studio is unique in that it boasts both the aesthetic and architectural capabilities that support strong sites.

"There are a lot of good designers out there, and there are a lot of good programmers," said Ms. Galvin. "What sets Christine Galvin Design apart is that we are a hybrid between design and development. We make websites look great, but we make them work well, too."

Christine Galvin Design, Inc. offers a variety of services to help businesses succeed online. They avoid templates, choosing to customize designs to their clients' specific needs. Their services include search engine optimization, content management systems and a range of web marketing solutions. They also offer highly specialized services such as custom application development.
